

This is Lara's story, a little girl suffering an uncommon disease to her kidneys. She goes to the hospital with her parents to meet her donor.

They stay at the hospital waiting their time. Meantime Lara is playing, Samyr comes to her. He is a migrant thirty-three aged and he lives in Italy recently. The parents want her daughter to get away from Samyr because of their prejudices and fears so Samyr disappointed.

The doctor enters the waiting room and asks for Samyr. After a few hours the turn of Lara's family arrives. The doctor comes out the operating room to meet Lara's parents and her donor.

While they arrive to the entrance of the operating room Lara's parents meet Samyr and are really upset. When the doctor says them Samyr saved Lara's life giving his Kidney to her.

The parents feel sorry for their unjustified prejudice and apologize to Samyr.
